Journal: Weekly Planner

Monday: Monday's lift is hard. I had a good day at school my math class was a bit difficult. I had swim practice the sets on Mondays are usually pretty long and I was not dissapointed. I did my math homework it was on circles and their formulas. I went to my scout meeting we played crab soccer and had a patrol meeting. I went home and finished math and then screwed around <sup>plus</sup>

Tuesday: I got up early and watched netflix. I then got ready for school and had a pretty good day. I had an english pop-quiz. practice was fun we used fins and I got to practice-fly. math hw. was on ellipsis and their graphs. I had to do english grammar packets. chemistry was practice with galvanic cells. I had to help edit my film project I think it's pretty good. Free time was once again screwing around on my phone.

wednesday: I had a fun morning ~~lift~~ lift we did bench and many power cleans. school was a drag. math was on parabolas and graphs. I had a job interview at HSS. interview went well I got the job. I went home and celebrated with a pizza that I ate on my own.

THURSDAY Today is meet day. I'm stoked. I got up early and stretched/rolled out at home. I went to school but I don't remember what happened I was too excited for the swim meet. The meet was a lot of fun. we swam against J-serra and won the meet. I went personal bests in the fly and free. I then went home to do my chem homework, english grammar, and math homework. I went to bed way too late.

Friday I had a tough lift today early morning after a late meet. Got through it and coasted through school that day. I had an easy stretch out practice. Math homework was boring especially on a Friday but I had a busy weekend so I had to get it done. I finished math english and Spanish before finishing my film project. I hung out and watched TV during free time. Went to bed early.

Saturday I had my scout class today. I realized I'm behind and I have a ton of stuff to do. I went home and finished my chem homework. I finished all my chores and then I took a nap. I woke up and then went to MORA with my friends. It was a pretty crazy dance I didn't get home till about midnight and I went right to bed.

Sunday I slept in crazy late. I woke up and finished my chores. I then did the rest of my make up math homework. I finished all the english grammar packets and then I washed the car. I got all wet so I decided to get in the pool. I had church at 5 till 6. I got home and then I to the movies in downtown Bree with my girlfriend. We had a lot of fun we saw Moana she loved it. I went home and went to bed at around 10:30.
